Counters Thronged With Remnant Seekers.

It's the time of the year for buying wash goods. The remnants are worth little to us; they are valuable to you. Many of them are bringing full prices in the place. It's quite fascinating to look through the hundreds of short lengths arranged along the counters and make selections perhaps for your waist, perhaps for a gown. Equal reductions on remnants of silks, dress goods, linens, trimmings, etc. One and all are marked—One-third off.

$1.00 and $1.25 Foulard

Silks 69c--Interested?

No denying, foulard silks have lost a little of the great prestige they had a few months ago. Silk fashion is so fickle they may be back in high favor tomorrow. Certainly, some of the prettiest effects are still made of foulard silks. At any rate, we shall close out some of the most magnificent effects in foulards at the 69c yard. They have been brought in from the most famous mills in France and Italy. They are effects and small figures. The silk comes with a satin finish and is immensely beautiful. While it lasts, 69c.

GOOD SHOW FOR CORBETT.

Mayor Tells Fitz His Face is Honest.
Angels Lose a Game—Two New Marks for Race Horses—Baseball.

JEFFRIES WILLING TO ACCOMMODATE HIM.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The next battle between heavyweights will probably be a contest between Jeffries and Corbett, and the fight is likely to take place in this city. Jeffries has expressed himself as willing to accept the challenge of Corbett, and it only remains to arrange the details. Sporting men in this city would prefer to see a contest between Fitzsimmons and Corbett, as they are better matched. After the showing made by Bob in his battle with the champion, they are convinced that he would give an exhibition with Corbett that would be worth going miles to see. A match between these men would be a great drawing card. Negotiations are being made to bring about such a contest, but as Corbett has his eyes on Jeffries, it is feared that he would not accept a match with Fitz.

ANGELS LOSE A GAME—TWO NEW MARKS FOR RACE HORSES—BASEBALL.
LOS ANGELES, July 30.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The Los Angeles Angels lost their game today to the San Francisco Giants, 4 to 3. The game was a close one, and the Angels were in the lead for much of the afternoon. The Giants scored in the ninth inning to win the game. The Angels' pitcher, Ed Bradley, pitched a good game, but was unable to hold the lead. The Giants' pitcher, Tim Lincecum, pitched a better game and was the victor.

PERMANENTLY CURED.
211 Roscoe Boulevard, Chicago: Gentlemen—About two years ago I had one foot to the grave, as the saying goes, and life looked pretty black to me; the doctors called it Bright's disease. I was told that I would give all I had to be cured, but nothing seemed to do me much good until a neighbor recommended Warner's Safe Cure. I was told that it was a safe cure, and I tried it. It was a wonderful medicine. I was improved, and in four months I was completely cured. I am now as well as ever, and I can do all the work I want to. I am a grateful debtor to Warner's Safe Cure. Yours truly, H. M. STUBBS, Alderman, 211 Ward.

Safe From Summer Complaints
All mammas, and papas too for that matter, dread the heat of summer with it's danger for the little folks, especially the babies. It is simply heart-breaking to read year after year about the great death rate among children caused by the summer's heat. Yet it is easy to protect the infants against all summer complaints, because we know that all these fearful perils have their beginning in stomach and bowel troubles, and we have a perfect family medicine that will keep the delicate machinery in a child's body clean, regular and in healthy working order in the hottest weather—CASCARET Candy Cathartic. The plump, bouncing, crowing baby shown here is a CASCARET baby. He feels that way winter and summer. Nursing mammas take a CASCARET at bedtime, and it makes their mother's milk mildly purgative and keeps the baby just right. Older children like to take the fragrant, sweet little candy tablet, and are safe from colic, gripes, diarrhoea, summer rash, prickly heat and all the mean troubles that summer brings with it.

DAY AT THE NEW CAPITOL.

Governor is Engrossed in "Business."

Visited by Numerous Eminent Persons.

Strenuous and Exciting Day Spent by the State Executive.

Rhode Island isn't the only State in the Union with two capitals. Newport and Providence have their counterparts in California. The legal residence of the Governor of California is Sacramento; but he has abandoned the Executive Chamber in the state pile up north to web-spinning spiders.

Los Angeles now is the seat of government of the Golden State, and the push headquarters in the Hollenbeck Hotel, the place of the Executive Mansion.

For months the business of the State at Sacramento has been neglected, and the State's Chief Executive has been attending to his own private troubles. The text of "government" has been peripatetic. For a time it was at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco; again on a ranch near Downey; later in a law office in the California Bank building, Los Angeles; subsequently in a Spring Street bar-room; and now the coat of arms of the Governor of California is emblazoned over a door on the second floor of the Hollenbeck Hotel.

At the entrance to these sacred precincts, armed and pledged to guard his master at all hazards, stands the Governor's boon companion and otherwise lieutenant, Dan Kevane, otherwise known as Daniel Kivane, one-time resident of the "daddy" room between Los Angeles and Pasadena, now secretary of the State Board of Examiners at a salary of $3000 per year. No one can pass the solemn portals without whispering to trusty Dan the password. It used to be "bubonic plague," but it has been changed.

The new capitol was opened here Monday morning, when Gov. Gage returned from San Francisco, and since that time the wheels of the political machinery have hummed at a merry rate.

The callers have included such eminent men as Walter F. X. Parker, "Johnny" Morton, "Jack" Buchell, "Johnny" Wray, "Corney" Pendleton, ex-Senator Simpson, Judge Magee of Pasadena, Luther Brown and others. Already the Hollenbeck elevator is showing signs of wear from carrying these heavyweights, and the stairs groan under their tread.

Monday and Tuesday were comparatively quiet days with the Governor, but yesterday he made time for his lord. He, too, was catechized and given a verbal thumping.

"Too raw, too raw," were the words Gage used as Parker left the room. One by one, the faithful were brought onto the carpet. "Johnny" Wray, who has charge of the bureau of publicity and promotion, and who writes "editorials" and other matter for the "push" organettes, was given a castigation; "Corney" Pendleton caught it for muddling up the Senatorial contest in the Thirty-eighth District, and all day long the "faithful" came before the throne, and were "moted," first on one cheek, then on the other.

Two or three times during the day Congressman McIncham called at headquarters and discussed affairs of "state"; Henry E. Carter, "push" candidate for the Thirty-eighth District, talked over his prospects; ex-Senator Simpson of Pasadena, was closeted a few minutes with the Governor, and other bright minds for a time illumined the gloom.

JUDGE MAGEE CALLS. About 4 o'clock, Judge Magee of Pasadena entered the inner sanctum. Magee is the boss, who predicted some weeks ago that he would "deliver a solid Pasadena delegation for Gage."

"You're a home man, Henry," said Magee, "whom I and other prominent people of Pasadena want to see re-elected. 'Johnny' Wood, 'Jim' Clarke and the rest of us are in control over there, and we expect to swing the city into line."

"Yes, there is some opposition, but it is only on the surface. We have the 'works' and we will deliver the city for you."

When the docks had cleared at 4:15 o'clock, Walter Parker came over again from the "business" office and had a conference with the Governor. School, as a delegate to the State convention. When the motion was made to put through this state, it received only 15 votes, the remainder of the attendants refusing to stand by the attempted job.

Whittier is thoroughly stirred up over the State fight, and the opposition that exists in that city is well understood by the gang. Tonight the opponents of the "push" will hold a meeting, and they are wondering if Superintendent Smith will send out the boys' band to furnish music for the crowd.

Political Briefs. At a meeting of the Seventy-fifth Assembly District Flint Club, held last evening at Royal Hall, delegates were chosen to the State convention and other business of importance was transacted. More than fifty members of the club were in attendance, and from the numerous volunteers who agreed to go to Sacramento, thirteen representatives of the district were chosen to be delegates. In this district there were twice as many voters as there were delegates. In Pomona, as set forth in yesterday's Times, was a matter of great interest in that city, as it was the first publication of the names of the "push" members who are attempting to hoodwink the voters by shooting for Parker, while their determination is to stand only for Gage delegates to the State convention. The exposure also opened the eyes of voters in other districts where similar methods have been or will be attempted.

"DON'TS" FOR THE HUNTERS.

No Fooling on Uncle Sam's Reserves.

Game Laws Strict for Deer Season.

Permits Needed and Shotguns Barred by Government—Fire Danger.

The game season will open tomorrow, and thereafter, for one month, it will be lawful to kill male deer, provided not more than three are killed by one person during the same season. Today there will be an exodus of hunters from Los Angeles to the mountain districts in and out of the United States forest reservations. If there is not a tragedy at a venue of carless shooting the season will be an exception to the general rule.

The regulations for the protection of the forests by the Government were never so strict as this year. Each year some additional privilege is forbidden all campers and hunters because the year before some few have abused the privileges accorded them. So strict are the regulations this year that it behooves hunters and members of camping parties to first ascertain what the regulations are before going into the reservations and there butting up against the United States Court floor in the person of a forest ranger. The rangers are clothed with all authority necessary to enforce those regulations, and they are no respecters of persons.

Here are a few "don'ts" which campers and hunters will do well to remember, for by doing so they may save themselves a deal of trouble, not to say financial loss in the payment of fines in the United States Courts, tribunals which seldom miss lightly.

Don't attempt to take a shotgun of any description into a forest reservation. Shotguns are barred absolutely, and such arms will be confiscated by the rangers.

Don't attempt to enter a forest reservation with either a rifle or revolver without having first obtained a permit from the forest supervisor. Permits must be secured and unless they are the rangers will confiscate every firearm found on the person or in camp.

Don't start a fire in a forest reservation. It is not contrary to law to build a fire in forest reservations, but it is a large fine or it is left unguarded, the person responsible therefor may be sent to prison for a year or fined $1000, or both.

Don't think that you can sneak into a forest reservation with any kind of firearm and hope to elude the vigilance of the rangers. They know every person who comes within their territory, and if they find you violating the regulations they will enforce them, no matter who you are. They have the mighty authority of the United States Government behind them.

Don't "talk back" to a ranger in the performance of his duty. Don't resist arrest or show disrespect. He may start a censure if it appears really necessary for his own protection.

Don't attempt to shoot a deer if you did not know you were upon a forest reservation. The law presumes that you know the boundaries of the reservations, and if you are found violating the law, you will find no game in the markets this year.

Don't think you can take advantage of the proviso in the law which permits persons traveling through reservations to bear arms. So long as you remain on beaten trails or roads you will be safe, but if you set off the roads your arms may be confiscated.

The San Gabriel and San Bernardino Forest Reserves are under the supervision of Forest Supervisor E. H. Thomas, whose office is in the Cotton Block, Broadway near Second street. In response to a question yesterday as to what regulations are being enforced, Mr. Thomas produced a copy sent him by the Secretary of the Interior, the most important paragraph in which follows:

"Any person desiring to carry firearms of any kind in the forest reserves must obtain permit to do so from the supervisor of the reserves; such permit to be granted free of charge, and only on sufficient reasons for carrying the firearms are furnished, and on condition that a careful handling of the same within the reserves is assured. The violators of these regulations are provided, that travelers merely passing through the reserves on the open public highways of travel shall not be subject to this requirement, except that when seen by forest officers they shall be notified not to carry firearms under circumstances in which it would endanger the reserve or conflict with legal requirements. Provided further, that no permission to carry firearms will be granted that will authorize the carrying of concealed weapons in violation of any local statute making it a crime to carry concealed weapons."

This applies with equal force to all other forest reserves. To obtain permits for hunting in the San Gabriel or San Bernardino reserves, applications must be made to Supervisor Thomas; for the San Jacinto reserve to Supervisor W. C. Bartlett; San Jacinto; for the Pine Mountain reserve, in Ventura and Santa Barbara counties, to Supervisor Willis M. Slauson; Nordhoff. It is not necessary, but best, for every member in one party to secure an individual permit. Permits may be issued for one party, but in that event it would be well for each member of a party to ascertain the residence of the ranger in the particular locality in which they desire to hunt, and have him understand that they are all included in the one permit. The permits are issued on the following conditions, which are printed on them:

"First—that no rifle or revolver be discharged at or into any living timber, natural curiosities, ruins, objects of antiquity, or any other public property thereon.

"Second—that no violation of the State or county game laws be practiced.

"Third—that in consideration of this permit being given the applicant will carefully comply with all the rules and regulations governing forest reserves, being especially careful in selecting places for camp fires, and seeing to it that the same are totally extinguished before leaving. He will assist in extinguishing forest fires if burning in his vicinity, and will also refrain from mutilating or destroying life or growing timber.

"Any violation or infringement of the above requirements of the rules and regulations governing forest reserves will cause the permit to be forfeited, and the applicant from any further exercise of the privileges of this permit."

"The reason shotguns are barred in all reservations," said Supervisor Thomas yesterday, "is that by the use of certain kinds of wads in loading shells there is danger of starting fires. It is the duty of the rangers to see that the use of such arms. Again, there is no use of a man taking a shotgun into a reserve, for the reason that there is now no game there which he can legally kill with such a weapon. The quota season does not open until October, and until then a rifle will serve all necessary purposes. The system of granting permits was adopted in order that the rangers and supervisors may know just what kind of people visit the reserves, and all regulations now in force are intended only for the better protection of the forests."

An index of the character of the men who patrol the reserves, and the manner in which they do their duty, was shown before United States Commissioner Van Dyke when F. E. Strader of San Fernando was being tried on a charge of leaving a fire in an abandoned camp. He was brought by Forest Ranger Joseph H. Hutchings of Palmdale Canyon, and the official and the accused have been friends for years. "It is tough to pull a friend into court," said Hutchings, "but in my official capacity, all men look alike to me."

Strader, who was examined on the charge of leaving a camp fire burning on the San Gabriel Reserve and held to answer.

NEWMAN CLUB DINNER.

Paper Read Last Night by Dr. P. S. Dougherty—Next Meeting to Be Held at Camulos.

Twenty-five members of the Newman Club sat down to dinner at Lewis' last night at the July meeting of the Club.

The paper of the evening was read by Dr. P. S. Dougherty on "The Evil of Child Labor." The speaker, who has been a subject, beginning in ancient times when Plato and Aristotle advocated the doctrine of murdering undesirable infants, and followed it down to the present day. He deplored the condition that finds so many childless homes, and advocated the creation of a better moral sentiment on the subject of infanticide, through the medium of the press, pulpit and public teachers.

A toast was drunk to John F. Francis, who is now lying ill at Fair Oaks.

Arrangements were completed for holding the August meeting of the club at Camulos Ranch, the home of R. F. Del Valle, on Sunday, August 3rd. The club will be accompanied by Bishop Montgomery, who will hold religious services prior to the meeting of the club.

TRACY MAY BE AMONG THEM.

OGDEN (Utah) July 30.—Three hoboes held up and robbed a passenger on the Rio Grande Western train who had stepped out on the platform at the Union station here last night. A detective who went in pursuit of the robbers was in turn held up and relieved of his revolver, handcuffs and other paraphernalia; such to hurry away, which he did. A posse headed by several policemen took up the pursuit of the robbers. They caught up with them, and in the exchange of shots which followed, Policeman Farr was severely wounded. The robbers fled toward the hills north of the city. Bloodhounds from the State penitentiary were telephoned for and were put on the track of the robbers this morning.

TONS OF APRICOTS WILL GO TO WASTE.

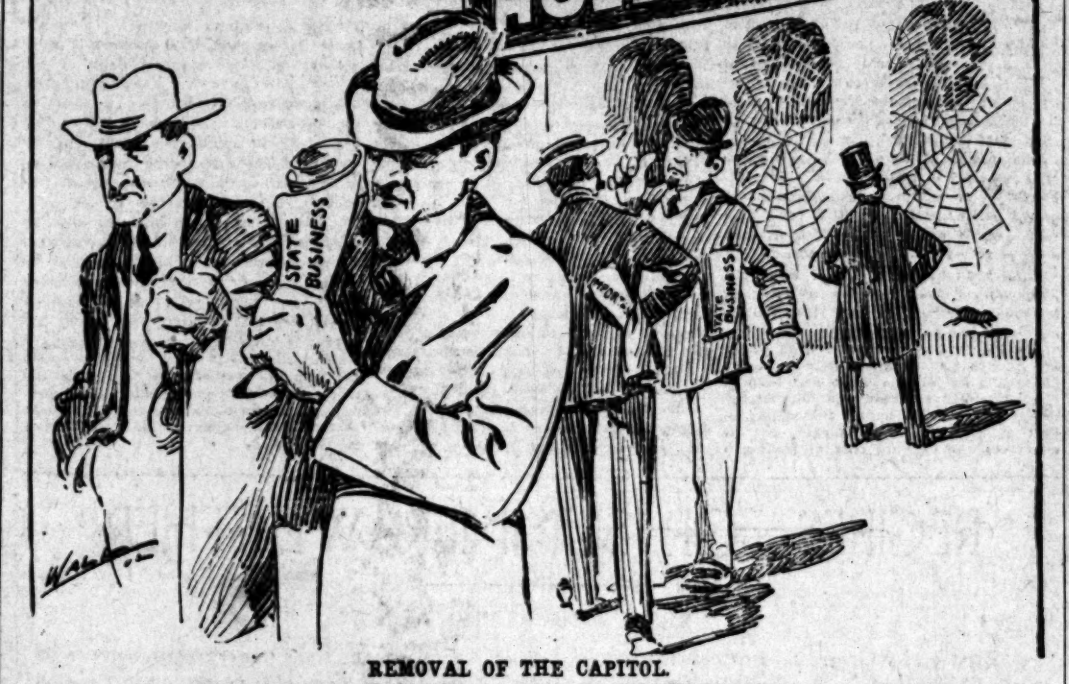

BUSHELS upon bushels of luscious ripe apricots are going to waste in the San Fernando Valley just outside of Los Angeles. It is said that there are over 100 tons of fruit rotting on the ground of the orchards at Toluca and Burbank.

The trouble is that the ranchers are unable to hire men enough to care for the enormous crop. All the ranchers are running desperately short-handed. As it is, most of the men are women and children.

The crop this year is so enormous that every boarding-house in the United States will have stewed apricots for dessert five times a week for the next year.

Supervisor Patterson, who has been traveling about his district is authorized for the statement that from Toluca alone there will be 150 tons of dried apricots shipped this year. Burbank, he believes, will have fully as large a shipment.

hum. He spent the first two days after his return from the various parts of his home county, and they were not at all to his liking. He was in an extremely petulant mood when he arrived at headquarters yesterday morning from his ranch at Downey. There was a wrinkle in his navy-blue suit, and his brow was corrugated, even so that his nose was at an unusual elevation and his eyes looked like a clove in a broom handle.

BROWN IS CALLED DOWN. "Where's Brown?" he said to Kevane, as Dan gave the gubernatorial salute.

"Here," came a still, small voice from a corner of the room. "Sit down, Brown," said the Governor. Now, look here, young man, you've been making some decidedly 'raw' breaks in this campaign. When I turned affairs over to you, and you showed the people of the State that my home county was solid for my re-nomination, a thing which I desire and expect. What have you done?"

and the Governor brought his flat down hard on the long table. Brown flinched, but was dumb. "What is this about your holding up candidates for campaign funds, promising them our support for any and every office? Don't you know that to do such things is wrong? I mean to do them in such a manner that the public will find them out."

"You are not dealing with a class of High School girls now, Brown. Remember that you are working in the political field in a great and good cause, the re-nomination of an honest man to a high position. We can't afford to pay you a salary as a campaign manager and suffer from your 'raw' work. Brace up."

PARKER GETS A LASHING. "Where's Parker?" was the next demand from the sanctum of the august potentate.

A messenger was dispatched hastily to the "business" office of the "push" in the Wilson Block, and Walter waddled down the street, and stood panting before his lord. He, too, was catechized and given a verbal thumping.

"Too raw, too raw," were the words Gage used as Parker left the room.

One by one, the faithful were brought onto the carpet. "Johnny" Wray, who has charge of the bureau of publicity and promotion, and who writes "editorials" and other matter for the "push" organettes, was given a castigation; "Corney" Pendleton caught it for muddling up the Senatorial contest in the Thirty-eighth District, and all day long the "faithful" came before the throne, and were "moted," first on one cheek, then on the other.

Two or three times during the day Congressman McIncham called at headquarters and discussed affairs of "state"; Henry E. Carter, "push" candidate for the Thirty-eighth District, talked over his prospects; ex-Senator Simpson of Pasadena, was closeted a few minutes with the Governor, and other bright minds for a time illumined the gloom.

JUDGE MAGEE CALLS. About 4 o'clock, Judge Magee of Pasadena entered the inner sanctum. Magee is the boss, who predicted some weeks ago that he would "deliver a solid Pasadena delegation for Gage."

"You're a home man, Henry," said Magee, "whom I and other prominent people of Pasadena want to see re-elected. 'Johnny' Wood, 'Jim' Clarke and the rest of us are in control over there, and we expect to swing the city into line."

"Yes, there is some opposition, but it is only on the surface. We have the 'works' and we will deliver the city for you."

When the docks had cleared at 4:15 o'clock, Walter Parker came over again from the "business" office and had a conference with the Governor. School, as a delegate to the State convention. When the motion was made to put through this state, it received only 15 votes, the remainder of the attendants refusing to stand by the attempted job.

Whittier is thoroughly stirred up over the State fight, and the opposition that exists in that city is well understood by the gang. Tonight the opponents of the "push" will hold a meeting, and they are wondering if Superintendent Smith will send out the boys' band to furnish music for the crowd.

Political Briefs. At a meeting of the Seventy-fifth Assembly District Flint Club, held last evening at Royal Hall, delegates were chosen to the State convention and other business of importance was transacted. More than fifty members of the club were in attendance, and from the numerous volunteers who agreed to go to Sacramento, thirteen representatives of the district were chosen to be delegates. In this district there were twice as many voters as there were delegates. In Pomona, as set forth in yesterday's Times, was a matter of great interest in that city, as it was the first publication of the names of the "push" members who are attempting to hoodwink the voters by shooting for Parker, while their determination is to stand only for Gage delegates to the State convention. The exposure also opened the eyes of voters in other districts where similar methods have been or will be attempted.

DUTIES OF PARENTS TO LITTLE ONES

I have but one comment to make on Ohio ex-teachers. If the fault of the parents, public opinion and legislators protect the helpless from the injustice done against their parents' greed.

Drawn by Malcolm Strauss

It all began two years ago, when Mr. Macklesho strolled out during the leisure of a Sunday afternoon. He observed the big car barns and power station at the corner of Broadway and 14th street, and saw that hundreds of employees here to be fed daily, and as Mr. Macklesho had been in the habit of dining at the hotel, he decided to help him. He hadn't the money to rent quarters for a restaurant, but he had the interest of his patrons, who began to come in and eat at the hotel. They suggested the idea of the hotel. More cars were added. Now there are seven of them set in the form of a cross and a large dining hall, with a sign on the wall. A black lettered sign hung out announced: "Boarding $2.50 per week; lodging, 75c."

The kitchen is located in a tent. The dining car has the side sections removed, and the seats are turned around to attend to the needs of the patrons.

The proprietor is coming money; every day he is getting more and more business to its utmost capacity. The dining car is crowded at meal times, and at noon the rush at the cafe is so great that not half the hungry men can get in.

Some men come seat themselves on barrels and boxes outside in the lot, and in these all four quarters they are served.

Mash ripe, red raspberries to a pulp, and pour over them enough white vinegar to cover them. Do this early in the morning, and set the earthen vessel containing the mixture into a cool place for the night. Strain out the pulp, add more fresh, mashed berries to the liquid, and set in the sun as before. The following morning strain again and add to each quart of the liquid a pint of pure cold water. Now measure all the liquid—juice and water together—and for every quart and a pint of this allow five pounds of granulated sugar. Put it together over the fire in a porcelain-lined kettle and bring slowly to a boil. As the scum rises to the top of the kettle, skim it off. Boil up just once, remove immediately from the fire, strain, bottle and seal. SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Several executive sessions were held by the Council yesterday in an effort to agree upon a schedule of police salaries without avert. Police Commissioner Keeney entered the arena yesterday, and caused a general commotion.

Grave charges against Capt. John Roeder of the fire department were preferred yesterday by Chief Strohm. Charles Howland, upon whose grounds a water meter has been placed, has sued the city. He demands, among other things, that all the income from water rents be used for water expenses. A colored preacher has sued a restaurant keeper who put him out.

Peter Wunder, the daylight burglar, was sentenced yesterday to State's prison for eight years.

AT THE CITY HALL.

KEENEY'S SCHEDULE CAUSES COMMOTION.

EXECUTIVE SESSIONS PRODUCE LIVELY TILTS.

Councilmen, Unable to Agree on a Schedule for Police Salaries, Put in a Whole Day in Caucusing to No Effect—Powers Makes a Statement.

Police Commissioner James Keeney turned from his office in San Francisco just in time to upset all calculations in the Council with respect to police salaries. He entered the argumentative session yesterday morning, and so many of the City Fathers broke for cover that no agreement could be reached. Consequently, the Council adjourned late in the evening without having taken final action on the recommendation of Chief Elton.

Most of the day was spent by the Councilmen in caucus. In the morning there were two long executive sessions at which Commissioner Keeney was present. A third began a little after 3 o'clock in the afternoon and continued until 5:30 o'clock, when the Council met and received a report from the committee of the whole that an agreement was out of the question. The committee was granted additional time in which to report, and the Council adjourned until next Monday.

Commissioner Keeney was decidedly opposed to the original ordinance giving policemen $100 a month; he was also opposed to the compromise schedule which gave policemen $100 for the first year, and added $200 each year for three years. He did not oppose an increase in present salaries, but asked that it be made on a different schedule. Keeney believes his plan would conduce to the betterment of the force as a whole, and that it would save several thousand dollars a year over other plans proposed.

The commissioner spoke against a monthly salary as low as $100 a month, and opposed a schedule that advanced the policemen rapidly to $100 a month. He proposed a schedule by which the policemen would receive a salary of $80 a month for the first year; a salary of $100 a month for the second year, and so on, increasing the monthly stipend $1 for each year of service up to ten. He told the Council that he would favor a continuance of the schedule for the full twenty years of active service, so that at the end of the term the policeman might draw $100 a month.

"I am not opposed to an increase in salaries in the Los Angeles Police Department," Commissioner Keeney, last night, "and I am heartily in favor of the graded scale of salaries. But I do not believe that the police should draw pay so disproportionate with the salaries paid to other departments of the municipal government."

In the morning caucus there was a hot one. One of the Councilmen got so mad that he got black in the face and declared he had been made all sorts of a monkey for the benefit of some of his colleagues.

When the Council convened yesterday morning, the resolution introduced by the Police Commissioner was referred to the committee of the whole for consideration, and the motion carried.

After the adjournment of the Board of Equalization, the Council met immediately after the Council took a recess, there was another hot session with more fireworks. Keeney persistently favored his schedule, and introduced facts to show that the cost of the department was not so greatly increased under it. The average term of service for a policeman in Los Angeles is four years. This would make the average pay in the department $84 a month, compared with $83.25 the salary now paid.

When the noon adjournment was taken, Howland, Pierce, Allen and others were said to favor Commissioner Keeney's schedule, while Blanchard, Todd, McLain and Powers were in allegiance between the original plan to give policemen $100 a month and the compromise schedule. Todd and McLain decided between the two plans. Walter Keeney is away.

During the noon hour another graduated schedule sprang into being. It was prepared by Commissioner Allen with the assistance of Bowen and was designed to be a compromise between his schedule and the one favored by the Council. It was said to be a compromise between the two plans. Walter Keeney is away.

Allen proposed a schedule which gave policemen $75 a month the first year and increased the monthly stipend $2 each year for twelve years, at the end of which time the policemen would receive $100 a month.

Both the Keeney and Allen schedules were intended to be retroactive in that the members of the present force would be assigned to positions in the salary scale according to the term of service. It is understood that it was this phase of the plan which led to the heated outburst. He is said to oppose any reduction in the pay of the men now on the force.

Commissioner Keeney added fuel to the flames that raged inside the committee room by declaring that the police were trying to take advantage of the candidacy of members of the Council for office. He told the Councilmen that while he believed they should deal fairly by the police force, additional taxes should not be saddled on the taxpayers under political duress.

This statement made some of the Councilmen so mad that they overlooked the Commissioner in their further deliberations. Only Chief Elton and Capt. Hensley being admitted to the committee room.

During the afternoon the statement was made that President Powers had forced Chief Elton to present the report of the Council, recommending the increase to $100 a month. Powers declared that this is untrue. He stated last night that he was in favor of submitting the schedule to the people in an amendment to the present charter. Chief Elton presented the San Francisco schedule to a sub-committee of the Charter Revision Committee composed of President Powers, Mayor Snyder and Walter Haas. With some slight reductions the sub-committee recommended to the main committee that the schedule be adopted as a proposed amendment to the charter. Before President Powers knew what was intended the schedule appeared in the Council.

"I voted to submit the schedule to vote by the people in the coming year and I could not consistently oppose it in the Council, although I have no knowledge whatever of how it came to be introduced," said President Powers last night. "I believe an increase in police salaries is just as I have repeatedly stated, but I am opposed to having the schedule come through that channel. As the matter now stands I favor the compromise schedule as it affords the best solution of the problem in my opinion."

Policemen will be on the streets next Monday as it is feared that the Council will be unable to reach any agreement and the salary ordinance will be introduced.

On the proposed addition of twenty patrolmen to the force there seems to be but one opinion. President Powers stated last night that he has always favored this addition and that the city has ample funds to provide for it.

Commissioner Keeney declared that his schedule, if adopted, will effect a saving to the city that will pay the salaries of the extra patrolmen or go a long way toward it. All the Councilmen in that caucus that were held yesterday and it seems probable that the force will be increased whether or not the salaries are raised.

FACING CHARGES.

ROEDER TO BE TRIED.

Grave charges of incompetency and negligence were preferred by Chief Thomas Strohm of the fire department against Capt. John Roeder of engine company No. 11, located at Seventh street and Huntington yesterday morning. It was intended to have a formal trial of the case against Roeder; but Attorney Wallace W. Wideman (in his calmer moments, a reporter for the Police Department) made an effective, although decidedly forensic appeal for a postponement until next Wednesday.

A thorough shake-up at the house is probable. If the accusations against Roeder are substantiated, the ramifications of the charges threaten to involve many other firemen. Roeder will probably be dropped from the department altogether, if the discipline at the house has been as severe as the other members of the engine company will be scattered all over the city.

Decided objection to the reading of the charges was made by Attorney Wideman. He read a section of the Police Code, which provides that no member of the fire department can be removed without trial, and that a copy of the charges must be given five days prior to the trial. And then the young attorney requested the commission to some historical or other authorities back to the year 1215 or thereabouts.

"We come before your honorable body today," said the attorney, "fighting for what our forefathers fought as far back as the time when they captured King John at Runnymede, and forced him to sign the Magna Charta—we demand the right to know beforehand on what we are to be tried."

The board through the trying times of the French revolution, the fall of the Bastille, the guillotine and the guillotine, the terrors of the American Revolution, declaring that Capt. John Roeder of the Los Angeles fire department is fighting the same fight as the heroes of those times. Coming back to the present day and age, he has been charged with the same crime as the heroes of those times. Coming back to the present day and age, he has been charged with the same crime as the heroes of those times.

Wideman demanded that his client be given a copy of the charges, and that they be filed without reading to the day of the formal trial. City Attorney Mathews was called in, and he informed the board that no such thing could be made to the reading of the charges. Acting Secretary Hopkins then read the charges of the firemen.

The chief stated in substance that Capt. Roeder did not appear with his company at a fire on the corner of the Lewis building on January 14, but arrived sometime later; that he failed to turn a second alarm in the fire on the Carondelet street, and handled it in a very bungling manner, which resulted in the loss of the building and the contents thereof. He also stated that on June 15 the truck went to Seventh and Alvarado streets to find Capt. Roeder, who had left the house, and that he was not there, and the truck was delayed in getting to the fire, where it was sorely needed. Capt. Roeder was charged with neglecting the fire, where it was sorely needed. Capt. Roeder was charged with neglecting the fire, where it was sorely needed.

For six hours today—between noon and closing time—this great store will be a busy trading mart, and every housewife in the city should make an effort to get her household work done during the morning; and use the afternoon in shopping; for we will have so many choice lines of merchandise to offer at such exceptional bargain prices that you really will be losing money if you stay away. We know that afternoons are most convenient for you to shop, so our store keeps open the entire day throughout the week; but our clerks lose nothing by it; it was their request, as they prefer the week's vacation with a week's pay in advance which we give our employees.
